MESSES. CHANDLER AND YATES.

In refutation of The Brooklyn Union's gratuitors charge that Messes. Zachariah Chandler and Richard stes are not temperate men, a highly respectable and sefectly credible citizen of Brooklyn says: "Having sen is washington all of last Winter, and having daily sen these gentlemen in their seats, and often outside, I say that not in all that time, nor at any other time—is I have known them both many years—did I ever see the of them under the influence of liquor. I could ver understand why the story of drunkenness attached with the seats of the seats of the seats of the seat of the seats of the seat of the se signed the pledge, and made an address, wherein he said is substance: 'I have always been a moderate drinker, is my own estimation, but I have lately found that the reporters would have it, whenever I made a speech, that plek Yates was drunk upon the occasion; therefore I have pledged myself to abstain henerforth from all intoxicating drinks, and I have promised God and my wife Katy, and the children, that from this time forward no such charge shall ever be laid at my door.'"

OHIO.

ARRAIGNMENT OF ANDREW JOHNSON. Major-Gen. Logan delivered a long and vig-grous speech at Hamilton, Ohio, on Wednesday, in which he arraigned the Democracy for their crimes and infamy, he arraigned the Democracy for their crimes and manny, and said of Andrew Johnson:

Tell me to-day if you had Jeff. Davis in the Presidential chair or Mr. Robert E. Lee, could they have done more for the Rebels in this land than Andrew Johnson has since he has been President! If they could, I would like to know in what way they could have done it. If Jeff. Davis had been President, what would he have done! He would have returned all the property to the Rebels that they had lost. Andrew Johnson has done that. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have pardoned all the Rebels that asked him for pardon. Andrew Johnson has done that have denounced this Congress, and called them a set of traitors. Andrew Johnson has done that. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have appointed kebel Governors down South to control those States. Andrew Johnson did the same thing. If Jeff. Davis had been President he would have vetoed the Freedmen's Hureau bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the Civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the Civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the Civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the Civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the Civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson did that. He would have vetoed the Civil Rights bill. Andrew Johnson has done.

Upon the same day the Hon. W. D. Kelley spoke in Cinemanti, and after describing an interview which he had held with President Johnson, shortly after the death of Abraham Lincoln, in which Mr. Johnson had declared himself in thorough harmony with Congress and the North, said:

Charles Schurz, fresh from Sherman's army in North Carolina, with his star-yet upon his shoulders, and the dust of Sherman's grand-march to the sea still upon his soldierly habiliments (Applause.) I met him but for a moment; said he: 'The President is all right; if he don't talk a little too strongly. I am afraid,' he continued, 'that the tones of the Presi-dent and the very vehement: protestations make me fear the fidelity of his statements.' I met him next day in Phila-Geiphia, and in the pressure of a number of gentlemen. Gen. and in the presence of a number of gentlemen, Ge delphia, and in the presence of a number of gentlemen, Gen. Littlefield—the one fresh from the post command of Charlesten, South Carolina, and the other fresh from the command of the post of Savannah, Georgia, and I learned that the one had heard from Georgia gentlemen, who had been with the President in interview with him, and stated that it was his purpose to overthrow the Kadheal party, and reorganize the National Democratic party, and, said Gen. Woodford, maming gentlemen from South Carolina-Rebels—'that is the statement Mr. Johnson made to each and all of these gentlemen—each separate and spart from the other.'

THE DEMOCRATIC ADDRESS. The Committee of the Democratic Conservative Convention have issued an address in favor of the proposed new Constitution, of which they say:

Proposed new Constitution, of which they say:

Conspicuous among the salutary reforms of that instrument, may be mentioned the abolition of the present oppressive county school system and an arrangement for the perpetuation of the popular common schools of the city, the grant of the veto power to the Executive as a check upon hasty and unwise legislation; the delegation of the queestion of the rate of interest upon contract to the Legislature; the creation of new checks upon State and City expenditure; the denial to the Mayor and City of Council of Baltimore of the right to loan the credit of the city without the consent of the General Assembly and of a majority of the people at a general election; and above all, and before all, the absence of those horrible test onths which disgrace the Constitution of 1884, and which are edious to every freeman. So that it may be truly considered a new declaration of the independence of the people of Maryland.

COURTS SUSPENDED ON ACCOUNT OF THE EPIDEMIC.

NEW-ORLEANS, Sept. 15 -No business could be done at the session of the Supreme Court of this State held at Opelousas last week. The prevalence of yellow fever in that neighborhood, and well-grounded fears that it might become more general, caused lawyers and clients to ask for an adjournment of the Court.

THE CASE OF ARREST FOR VIOLATION OF PAROLE. MEMPHIS, TENN., Sept. 15.—It is understood that the military authorities will obey the writ of habeas corpus in the case of young Milliken, who was arrested for violating his parole, as an ex-Confederate soldier.

THIRD MILITARY DISTRICT.

Gen. Pope, commanding the Third Military District, on the 11th inst., announced that Major-Gen. Wager Swayne, Colonel of 45th Infantry, has been assigned to the command of the District of Alabama.

Gen. Pope has issued an order prohibiting the civil or military authorities at any post in his district from placing in quarantine the steamship Alliance now in Government employ. This is to enable the necessary communication to be kept open.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

AID FOR THE SUFFERERS IN THE SOUTH. The Committee appointed at the meeting of physicians on Friday to devise a feasible plan for the relief of the yellow fever sufferers in the South, met on Saturday with Prof. Frank R. Hamilton in the chair, Mr. John Bowne serving as Secretary. The latter read a re port showing that $3,000,000 has thus far been collected, of which the Southern Famine Relief Committee has conof which the Southern Familie Relief Committee has con-tributed $251,000; the New York Ladies' Relief Associa-tion, $70,000; the United States Government, through Gen. Howard, $25,000; by ofter bodies and individuals, $2,000,000. Dr. Harris thought that at least $2,000 a week should be contributed by New York alone, as the amount required for the relief of Southern sufferers is not short of $1,000 a day. After some discussion the following resolu-lions were unanimously adopted:

RELIGIOUS.

DISAPPOINTMENT OF MR. BEECHER'S FRIENDS. Plymouth Church was crowded to its utmost capacity yesterday. Mr. Beecher, still suffering from an attack of asthma, did not preach, but his place was creditably filled by the Rev. Dr. Powers of Derby, Conu., who ably filled by the Rev. Dr. Powers of Derby, Conn., who delivered an impressive discourse, taking for his subject the never-ending power of the Gospel of Christ, its permanent existence as the only belief essential to salvation. The speaker contrasted the creed of the Christian with that of the wisest of ancient philosophers, showing that the latter always felt the want of comfort in the doctrines they professed, and in illustration quoted the confession of Socrates. "We must of necessity wait until some one shall come from him who cares for us, to give us the light, and show us the way."

When a child he had the strange conceit that people never tired of reading the Bible, because every day they found some change in it. This, though a childish notion, is true in the spirit, though faise in the letter. The Bible does change as the soul of the reader expands, as it grows more and more capable of taking in the glorious truths which at first seemed vague uncertainties. To the devout student of its pages, every day develops a new significance, a fuller meaning, a greater wealth of love, in its every line. Time cannot exhaust its beauties, its lessons are without number. Until the Gospel is tred it is exhaustless. The command, "Love thy God with all thy mind, and soul, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself," is the embodiment of all its teachings. We want more of this less. The command, "Love thy God with all thy mind, and soul, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself," is the embodiment of all its teachings. We want more of this neighborly love. When the man of faith deigns to acknowledge the worth of works; when we cease to dispute about forms; when Christians prove to unbelievers that the cause of our differences lies not in the Gospel, but it the cause of our differences lies not in the Gospet, but in our conceptions of it, then no Fourier will rise to mislead the doubting, there will be no need of spiritualism as a branch of the Christian religion, nor will any prayer be uttered for a new dispensation.

A brief newspaper paragraph cannot do justice to a discourse like that delivered by Dr. Powers yesterday. It was the effort of a ripe scholar, an eloquent and impressive speaker, and was listened to with the deepest attention by his numerous learners.

A SOUTHERN BAPTIST IN JERSEY CITY. Yesterday morning the Rev J. C. Carpenter, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of New-Orleans, La., Pastor of the First Baptist Church of New-Orleans, La, delivered an interesting sermon before a large congregation in the First Baptist Church of Jersey City, in the course of which he held that, no matter how long or earnestly the politicians at Washington might tax their minds and energies to reconstruct the South, and bring the people of the two sections to an amicable maderstanding, the work is, after all, in the hands of God, and it must be commenced upon a religious basis. The mysterious providence of God is bringing the ministers of the two sections together; soon there will be sympathy between the congregations of the two sections, and though the open hand of fellowship, and all the concemitants of religious feeling and brotherly love, will be held sacred by all classes of both extremes. He was a Southern man, out and out, and had remained in New-Orleans when the Rebois held exchasive possession of that city; but then, as afterward, he determined to know nothing but the Christian religion, pure and simple. When the United States troops entered the city, they let his church alone, although they took nearly every other church for hospital and other purposes. He preached to the Union soldiers, and they listened to kim evidently with pleasure. The Rev. W. H. Parmly made a short address, saying that the First Baptist Church of New-Orleans bore the reputation of being a place where Northern men, as well as Southern, were always welcome, and treated with respect. He mentioned a debt due by that church, and recommended that a collection be taken up to help liquidate it. The congregation promptly responded, and Stot was raised on the spot. delivered an interesting sermon before a large congrega

BROOKLYN Y. M. C. ASSOCIATION. A prayer meeting of the Brooklyn Young Men's Christian Association was held on Saturday night at their rooms in Fulton-av. A stranger from St. Louis addressed the meeting, detailing, in the course of his remarks, some of the trials through which the St. Louis Association has passed. At one time, he said, the attend-ance at the meetings was limited; but now the roll of members is very large and the meetings are always well members is very large and the meetings are always well attended. "A captain," he said, "once touched at an island of the West Indies for the purpose of getting a carge of guano. He saw a population of about two hundred whites and blacks on the island, but found no church. Wondering at the state of things, he asked the Governor why there was no church. The Governor said he would have a church erected if the captain would consecrate it. The reply was: 'Til do my best.' The church was crected in about a month. Returning in about seven months, the Governor recognized the vessel (the Eliza) in the offling, and, coming down, told the captain that since his departure he had been converted to Christ. He blessed God that many others had been led into the right way.' Brother Graffon of Montreal made the concluding remarks. He spoke of the pleasure of being at home in the company of Christian young men. The exercises were varied with singing, and closed with a fervid prayer for the success of the brotherhood throughout the country.

THE HEMPSTEAD CAMP-MEETING.

THE HEMPSTEAD CAMP-MEETING. The Rev. G. B. Landon and his congregation, of the African M. E. Zion Church of Hempstead, have been holding a camp-meeting since the 7th inst. in a beautiful grove about two miles south of the village. But few tents have been erected, the majority of the congregation have been erected, the majority of the congregation spending the night in the village. The preachers' stand, seats, and refreshment booths of rough boards, arranged at intervals around the grove, remind one of a camp in the backwoods or among the pine groves of North Carolina. Last week the attendance was quite meagre, but on Sanday the sth and yesterday large numbers of visitors, from the city and surrounding towns, mostly whites, filled the 4r ve to its utmost capacity. The pious old negroes assembled to drink in the spirit of religion, as they felt it on the plantations of the South; and rossy-checked, buxon in plantations of the South; and rossy-checked, buxon sembled to drink in the spirit of religion, as they felt it on the plantations of the South; and rosy-checked, buxom country girls, decked in their gay Sunday attire, and accompanied by their honest plow-boy sweethearts; middle-aged-men, surrounded by growing families; the clite and the rough, all mingled together, listening to the services, making little pic-nic parties, or rambiling through the alistes of God's natural temple. The preaching was by the Rev. Mr. Landon, the Kev. Mr. Samuan of Flushing, the Rev. Mr. Hawkins of Williamsburgh, and others from New-York and vicinity. Around the stand good order generally prevailed, but on the outskirts of the camp there was much drinking, loud talking, and some fighting. The meeting closes on the 16th.

THE PREACHING ON FORT GREENE. A number of residents of the Eleventh Ward seem resolved to break up the Sunday tent-preaching on Fort Greene. An apparently concerted attempt to do this was made a few weeks ago by a party who attacked and drove off a Mr. Stupson, who was attacked and was made a few weeks ago by a party who attacked and drove off a Mr. simpson, who was attempting to preach. The services of yesterday afternoon were interrupted by a party of rough men and boys, who, by standing in front of and around the tent, disturbed the preacher and congre-gation. Capt. Waddy having been informed of these facts sent a strong force of police to the Greene, and the row-dies were driven off. The services were then conducted without interrunting.

ithout interruption. THE SERVICES AT LEFFERT'S PARK. The religious services at Leffert's Park, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon were unusually interesting, and largely attended. A sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Brewer, and the children from the Howard Mission of New York sang several original hymns. An address was delivered by the Rev. W. C. Van Meeter. was delivered by the Rev. W. C. Van Meeter.

The colored people of the Shiloh Church in this city are in trouble. Their house of worship was closed in August. The time appointed for reopening was the first Sunday. In September. On that morning the partor, the Rev. H. H. Gurnett, and the congregation went as usual to the laberancle, and found the doors closed against them. This occasioned a deal of feeling, but the chiers exhorted the members to bear me malice toward the treatees, who were the cause of the disappointment. It appears that in May last, the Rev. H. H. Gurnett, who then tilled a pulpit in Washington, was called hitter by the Shibo congregation, receiving 189 votes against 11 east for the Rev. Mr. Revs. of Philadelphia. The minority consisting of five treatees, were angr. and determined to east. Mr. Garnett out by Higstimate measures, if they could not by fair measur, and hence the closing of the doors. Prior to 1964 Mr. Garnett was eight years pasted of Shiloh Church. During his management the church deliver as reduced to 42.200. While he was absent Televant the church deliver as reduced to 45.325.

LOSS OF LIFE BY A CANNON EXPLOSION. A cannon exploded on board the steamer Deutschland, while in the Narrows, opposite Quarantine, and inward bound from Bremen, on Saturday afternoon at about 3 o'clock, killing two men instantly, leaving another to die in a few minutes afterward, and wounding two others-one fatally. The cannon was discharged to announce the vessel's arrival and summon the Health Officer. Upward of 200 men, women, and children, mostly steerage passengers, imigrating from Germany, stood near the ordnance, and when it burst the execution was frightful, and instantly changed the scene from one of exuberant gladness to one of the profoundest gloom. On the deck were two dead bodies, headless; a man with one side of his skull crushed to the brain lay in a dying condition, and two others were shockingly wounded. The decapitated heads were blown into the water. The killed were Frederick W. Hammer, a G er man, aged 25; William Gege, a German, aged 17; and a native of Russian Poland, named Frederick Matheke. All three had friends on board; the first a wife, the second a mother, and the other distant relatives. The wounded were a sailmaker, who was working the cannon, and a passenger. Both were borne to the Hospital of the Sisters of Charity in Hoboken, where they were kindly attended, but the former is so badly injured about the breast that hope for his recovery is out of the question. The three bodies were intrusted to Mr. Parelow, an un-dertaker in Hoboken, who coffined them without removing the clothing, and yesterday afternoon they were buried in the Hoboken Burying-ground, the funeral expenses being defrayed by the ship's owners. An inquest was previously held by Coroner John White and Capt. Van Saunton, and Dr. Frey, and the boatswain, and shipcarpenter, gave their testimony, which only elicited the fact of an explosion, without either of them being able to tell the cause. The verdict was "accidental death."

A large company gathered on Saturday afterthrown overboard an accident for which all were prepared—and no little amusement was caused thereby Dancing was kept up until a late hour, when Mr Geb hard's guests dispersed, highly pleased with the feativ-ities of the evening.

THE DRAMA. RISTORL.

Madam Ristori, accompanied by her husband and children, and by her dramatic company, arrived in On the voyage the steamer met with rough weather which somewhat delayed her. In one storm a sailor was washed overboard and drowned. Madam Ristori and Madam La Grange-also a passenger on the Europethereupon gave a dramatic and musical entertainment for the benefit of the widow and children of the unfortunate seaman. Madam Ristori has arrived here in good health and spirits. Her first appearance will be made at the French Theater on Wednesday evening, in the char-acter, not of Myrrha, as was at first proposed, but of Medea. Her second appearance will be made on Friday, when she will enact, for the first time here, the character Medea. Her second appearance will be made on Friday, when she will enact, for the first time here, the character of Pruncesca di Rimini. Her third appearance will be made on Saturday. The sale of sents for these performances commences to-day. Madam Ristori's first appearance in Brooklyn will be made on Tuesday evening next, the 24th list. at the Academy of Music. The dramatic company which has been engaged to support Madam Ristori, this season, is said to be the best one ever organized in Italy. It lackness of the sent of the dramatic company which has been engaged to support Madam Ristori, this season, is add to be the best one ever organized in Italy. It lackness own land. Signora Santini Pecchioli, Annina Butt, and Adelaide Butt will make their first appearance in the United States, during the present season, as also will Signor Gleck, we note with pleasure, will reappear, as also will Signor Cesare Ristori. The scenery for "Marie Antoinette" has been painted by the principal secule artists of Naples, Venue, Genou, and Paris, M. Wortz of Paris, and the chief costumers of the theaters of Venice, Trieste, and Florence have supplied the costumes. This piece is to be produced with every accessory of magnificence. Such, at any rate, is Mr. Gran's promise. The indications are that Madam Ristori's present season will be very brilliant. It ought to be—for she represents, as few persons have ever represented, the dignity and excellence of the dramatic art.

DRAMATIC NOTES.

On the occasion of Mrs. Lander's benefit, at the French Theater, on Friday evening last, the house was tastefully decorated with flowers and evergreenscompliment gracefully paid to the eminent actress by a number of her personal friends. Madam Ristori's family occupied a box at the French Theater, at the Saturday Matines, to witness Mrs. Lander's last personation of Queen Elizabeth.

Miss Kate Field has been engaged by Wilkes Spirit of the Times to write a sesies of articles on Ristori, for that paper.

Miss Lotta's two performances at the Brookyn Academy of Music, on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, were witnessed by two of the largest audiences of the season, and were very successful. The en gagement thus closed is one of the best that she has ever played. Her next professional appearance, we believe, will be made at Chicago. Mr. Coleman's Quilp was greatly liked in Brooklyn, as it had been before in New-Yerk. This excellent artist now proceeds to Boston, to join the dramatic company at Selwyn's Theater, shortly to be opened in that city.

Mr. James Schonberg, late stage-manager at Wallack's Theater, has assumed the position of acting-manager for Mr. Batemau, in the conduct of the French Comic Opera, at the French Theater.

The first Black Crook Matinée of the season was given at Nibio's Garden on Saturday, and was largely attended. Matinées will henceforth be given here every Saturday. The "Black Crook" is now in the second year of its continuous representation at this theater, and it still attracts crowded houses. So strong is the fascination of brilliant scenery and pretty dancing girls! The "Mechanical Donkey," lately introduced into the ball-room scene in this spectacle, has proved an attractive device. It is ingenious and funny.

Mr. Forrest will enact King Lear this evening at the Broadway Theater. By many persons, this is regarded as his very best impersonation. We trust be will have a crowded house. On Tuesday he will play Damon, on Wednesday King Lear, on Thursday Othello. It should be remembered that a family matinee is given at this theater every Saturday, and that a novelty of some sort is presented every Saturday evening. Mr. Forrest does not play at all on Saturdays. Thus far during his present engagement he has appeared as Virginius, Richelica, Othello, Richard III., and Damon.

There will be no change of bill at present, at either the New York Theater, where "Under the Gas light" enters to night upon its sixth week, or at the Fifth Avenne Theater, where "Fra Diavolo" and "Too Much for Good Nature" will be presented nightly; or at Barnum's Museum, where "The Man of Destiny" may be seen every afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Bowers is to play Mary Stuart to-night, at the Park Theater, in Brooklyn, for the first time. She appears in a historical tragedy, writen expressly for her by Mr. Edmund Falconer. The pieces with which Mr. Lester Wallack will open the new season at his theater are Mr. Craven's Meg's Diversion" and Mr. Burnaud's burlesque of Black-Lyed Susan"—both of which have had great suc-ess in London. The first Rip Van Winkle Matinée was given at the Olympic Theater on Saturday, and was remarkably well attended. Mr. Jefferson's success is thorough and decided. Nor is it a popular success alone—for this personification of Eip Van Winkle is one of the gems of the stage. Every one ought to see it, and no one who

GRIFFIN AND CHRISTY'S MINSTRELS.

A pleasant way to pass a Saturday evening is to take a few children-or a crowd of the youngsters, for that matter- and go to the Minstrel Hall of Messrs. Griffin & Christy. This haunt of negro minstrelsy is at No. 956 Broadway, near the corner of Twenty-third-st., and is the hall that was last season occupied by the Bunyan Tableaux. It is commodious and pleasant, and is provided with a neat stage, wherefrom—nightly, and at a Saturday Matinee—Messrs. Griffin & Christy's Minstrels dispense merriment for all who come. The Hall, on Saturday evening last, was well filled, and the programme of setting and the programme of setting and the programme. dispense merriment for all who come. The Hall, on Saturday evening last, was well filled, and the programme of enteriainment, which comprised some eighteen pieces, was received with frequent laughter. There is no need to describe the composition of a minstrel entertainment. Sentimental ballads, comic songs, dances, and nearro farce are the invariable ingredients. Their effect, of course, depends upon the manner in which they are mingled. For our part, we thought that there was just a little too much of the "Nora O'Neal" business on Saturday—that less sentiment and more fun would have made the mixture more refreshing. As it was, however, there was a good deal to laugh at. To see George Christy act is something—for he has a keen sense of lumor, and an unerring skill in blending himself with various phases of Ethiopian character. Otto Burbank also acted with much skill, and taste, and humor. The hit of the evening was made by Messra, Burbank, Fitz, Prendergast, and McRogers, in the song of "Ballough slonghuthericlussmitherine." It was noticeable that the children especially enjoyed this entertainment—which, indeed, was marred by nothing coarse, and which deserves its continued success.

LAYING OF A CORNER-STONE OF A CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL IN BOSTON.

Boston, Sept. 15 .- This afternoon the cornerstone of the new Cathedral of the Holy Cross, in the course of construction on the corner of Malden and Washington-sis, was laid with imposing ceremonies in the presence of an immense multitude. At the close of the ceremones Archbishop McCloskey of New-York de-livered an address. The estimated value of the Cathedral is $1,500,000, including the price of the land.

ANOTHER STREET RAILROAD EXCITEMENT. At half-past 12 o'clock yesterday morning it was reported at the New-st. Police Station that workmen were laying a track from Pier No. 1 to Castle Garden. An officer was sent to the spot, and the Superintendent of officer was sent to the spot, and the Superintendent of the job, Mr. Snyder, was taken to the Police Station, and the work stopped. Mr. Snyder exhibited a letter, from Mr. William M. Tweed, authorizing the North and East River Railroad Company to extend their track from the intersection of West st. and Rattery-place to Castle Garden, and this fact was at once telegraphed to the Police Contral Office. After two hours' delay, the Superintendent of Police replied that he had no power to prevent the laying of the track. About 3 o'clock Mr. Snyder, with 30 workmen, resumed work, and by a o'clock yesterday afternoon the track was about finished. It is said that the work was done by the order of the Commissioners of Emigration, and that hereafter emigrants and their luggage are to be put abourd the cars inside Castle Garsien, and sent West via the Hudson Biver Railroad and Now-York Central, without change of cars, thus escaping the thieves uge of cars, thus escaping the thieves who infest the Battery.

THE TURE.

TROTTING AT POUGHKEEPSIE. A fine trot took place at Doty's Park, one mile east of Poughkeepsie, on Saturday afternoon. Three horses were entered, viz: Sharpstein's sorrel gelding Tormenter, Doty's gray mare Lady Morrill, and Dr. Barton's sorrel stallion Paul. It was mile heats, best three in five, in harness, for a purse of $150. Crowds of sporting men were in attendance from different points along the river were in attendance from different points along the river. The betting at the start was greatly in favor of Tormentor, Paul next, and Lady Morrill last. Many supposed the latter stood no chance whatever. She sold in the pools at a surprisingly low figure. The judges were Messrs, Satheriand, D. S. Doty, and Salpaugh. Paul wor the first and second heats, but not with ease. Tormentor's driver held that animal back in the second heat, causing him to be distanced. He did so because of a lurt in one of his fore feet. The three remaining heats were won by the mare, the race cach time being very close. Considerable feeling was evinced at one time against the driver of Tormentor, who, it was alleged could have won the race if he wanted to. Those who were opposed to him offered to bet $250 to $100 that a man could get into the sulky and drive Tormentor the mile in quicker time than had been made by either of his rivals on the above afternoon. The exettement over the matter for a few moments ran high, and at one time it was feared a fight would ensue. The following is the summary of the race:

ONE OF THE NEW ATTACHMENTS FOR SEWING-MACHINES.

MACHINES.

The great Fair of the American Institute being now in its best dress, the visitor will see a great variety of interesting objects. No Fair over held in America will have so many new things to show, particularly in the way of additions to important inventions. One who has made mental philosophy a study cannot fail to get new facts, or the manner in which human minds in this age work together to complete one mechanism. One mind, by reason of a peculiar organization, works at one branch, and another at another branch, and without in the least suspecting that flav are creeting one commen. the least suspecting that they are creeting one common structure. In this there seems something like a Provi-

the reasonable. In this there seems something has dential direction.

This will be illustrated to those who take the trouble to look into the various improvements made in the sewing-machine. Howe discovered the use of the needle with the eye in the point; the rest, substantially, is the work of other hands, and perhaps more than 2,000 men have contributed each something to bring it to its present perfection.

The sewing-machine has been doing almost every various desired and even of details of fine an contributed each somechang to almost every variety of work; still, in some details of fine and even of common work, lady's hands have been indispensable. This was the case with regard to the tucking and creasing of a fabric. No contrivance seemed capable of doing this, and in tucking from half to three-fourths of her time was required, that the machine might go on and do its needed work. It is true there were several devices, and one was patented by H. W. Fuller of this city, which did passably well on some kinds of goods, but on others it was liable to injure the fabric. For many years Mr. Fuller was the only one who made any effort in an improvement in this direction.

But now, if our readers will look in the north-east corner of the northern gallery of the hall of the Fair, they will see an invention recently perfected by Mr. Fuller himself, which does those two branches of work by an attachment with all the exactness possible in the human hand, and without any more delay than in sewing a common seam.

This invention of Fuller's consists of two steel fingers This invention of Fuller's consists of two steel fingers which come down on the cloth while sewing a tuck, and nip or pinch up a crease the same as by hand for the next tuck, without measuring marking, or straining the goods. The light, upper plate of the self-guide and baster holds the work down smooth, prevents the cloth from running open, or under the ordinary gauge, and aids in guiding. It also holds the work together, and objectes the necessity for basting. All creasing devices, to be effective, must be removed from the cloth, when the feed operates, on account of the elacticity of the goods. This invention of Mr. Fuller's, on which he has been working for many years, now brings the sewing-machine to such marvelous perfection as to do every thing a lady can do—except to read a novel.
